Microsoft Office 2004 for Mac Furthermore, OpenOffice org can be used to effortlessly open a wide.. Right that was the easy one Now for the difficult one First some background We are setting up Exchange for the first time on a new server, the server is running Server 2008 and the version of Exchange is 2007 with SP1.. If i move myself to exchange and send a email to a user who is still working from the vpop server as the email is from the same domain it wont leave the building and sit in their new exchange mailbox which they have not been setup on yet.. Thanks for your help, Chris Clarify: Entourage can't receive mail from E2k7, but Outlook can work well Collect unclearly info: 1.

Because we have around 80 clients moving the company from vpop to exchange isn't going to happen over one night which needs to happen for internal emails to work and internal mailing lists.. We have tried installing webdav which was suggested, i have tried all the combinations under the sun for the server address with at the end etc.. g Inbox, sent items etc We have been doing some googling and people are having problems which are similar but there are not many people running on server 2008 as of yet.. Outlook 2007 worked a treat but Entourage on the mac will not work At first it appeared to be a authentication problem, bad user name and password but we have now got to a point entourage will connect with no errors but it does not recieve any mail or the folder system e.. We have two servers handling exchange one is the mail hub and the other is for the mailboxes.

Which isn't really going to work for us Ideally what i could do is get exchange to relay all mail straight to the vpop server which will send the mail which will then mean the users with vpop will work internally from exchange and also the mailing lists will work.. It is taken about 20min from the point i hit send to the point the recipient recieves the email.. I have also setup lan forwarding on the old vpop user for users have moved across to forward emails to the exchange server which also works but.. We also have another server which handles Active Directory which is Server 2003.. You would think it's possible to use the Product Key from a retail copy to 'convert' Office 2008 for Mac trial to fully working version – but alas Microsoft says that's not.. Apache OpenOffice for Mac As we own several domains i've set the exchange server up to use the least used domain and set that as the reply address and the old vpop server uses all the new domains until we move over which does works.. Mac users can now try Office 2008 free for 30 days We have some money saving conversion tips that can save you a few hundred dollars.
